SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

88 U.S. 162

Minor v. Happersett

Argued: February 9, 1875 — Decided: March 29, 1875

The Constitution does not, in words, say who shall be natural-born citizens. Resort must be had elsewhere to ascertain that. At common-law, with the nomenclature of which the framers of the Constitution were familiar, it was never doubted that all children born in a country of parents who were its citizens became themselves, upon their birth, citizens also. These were natives, or natural-born citizens, as distinguished from aliens or foreigners. Some authorities go further and include as citizens children born within the jurisdiction without reference to the citizenship of their [p168] parents. As to this class there have been doubts, but never as to the first. For the purposes of this case it is not necessary to solve these doubts. It is sufficient for everything we have now to consider that all children born of citizen parents within the jurisdiction are themselves citizens. The words "all children" are certainly as comprehensive, when used in this connection, as "all persons," and if females are included in the last they must be in the first. That they are included in the last is not denied. In fact the whole argument of the plaintiffs proceeds upon that idea.

★ Right to a prompt, fair trial by jury.

People accused of a crime have the right to a speedy and fair trial by a jury of peers. In a free society, those accused of a crime are assumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. The American system of justice treats all people fairly, ensuring the rights of the individual are maintained.

★ Right to keep and bear arms.

The Constitution protects the rights of individuals to have firearms for personal defense. This privilege is subject to reasonable restrictions designed to prevent unfit persons, or those with the intent to criminally misuse guns or other firearms, from obtaining such items.

★ Right to vote in elections for public officials.

By voting in federal, state, and local elections, citizens choose their government leaders. The right to vote is one of the most important liberties granted to American citizens. It is the foundation of a free society.

★ Right to apply for federal employment.

Public service is a worthy endeavor and can lead to an extremely rewarding career working for the American people. Many federal government jobs require applicants to have U.S. citizenship. As a U.S. citizen, you can apply for federal employment within a government agency or department.

★ Right to run for elected office.

U.S. citizenship is required for many elected offices in this country. Naturalized U.S. citizens can run for any elected office they choose with the exception of President and Vice President of the United States, which require candidates to be native-born citizens.

* Right to run for elected office.

U.S. citizenship is required for many elected offices in this country. Naturalized U.S. citizens can run for any elected office they choose with the exception of President and Vice President of the United States, which require candidates to be native-born citizens.

Although an idiom used in M-76, 'The Citizens Almanac', is not found anywhere in the Constitution and may or may not be consistent with the circumstances intended by the Constitution it remains clear in reading and intent of the statement that the USCIS, under authority of the DHS, has assumed the ability and authority to determine, insofar as citizenship eligibility is concerned, who may and/or may not be a 'qualified/eligible citizen' for the purpose of obtaining to the offices of President and/or Vice President of the United States of America.

Therefore I renew my request for certification as a citizen Constitutionally eligible for the offices of President and or Vice President insofar as the subject of citizenship is concerned, that of being a (American) Natural Born Citizen.

Dear Steven Lee Craig:

This is in response to your Freedom of Information Act/Privacy Act (FOIA/PA) request received in this office November 16, 2009. You requested information/documents relating to page 4 of "The Citizen's Almanac."

We have completed our search for records; and did not locate any information/documents that specifically addresses page 4 of "The Citizen's Almanac." If you still believe that we have records within the scope of your request, and can provide us with additional information, we will conduct another search. If you elect to request another search, we recommend that you NOT follow the appeals procedure described below until we have completed the search.

In the event you wish to appeal this determination, you may write to the USCIS FOIA/PA Appeals Office, 150 Space Center Loop, Suite 500, Lee's Summit, MO 64064-2139 within sixty (60) days of the date of this letter. Both the letter and the envelope should be clearly marked "Freedom of Information Act Appeal."

All FOIA/PA related requests, including address changes, must be submitted in writing and be signed by the requester. Please include the NRC number listed above on all correspondence with this office. Requests may be mailed to the FOIA/PA Officer at the PO Box listed at the top of the letterhead, or sent by fax to 816-350-5785. You may also submit FOIA/PA related requests to our e-mail address at uscis.foia@dhs.gov.

Re; NRC2009064630

Director T. Diane Cejka;

I am in receipt of your agencies unresponsive reply, six (6) months to the day, to the FOIA Request I submitted seeking information regarding the 'specific' passage found on page #4 of 'The Citizen's Almanac', M-76;

“* Right to run for elected office.

U.S. citizenship is required for many elected offices in this country.

Naturalized U.S. citizens can run for any elected office they choose with the exception of President and Vice President of the United States, which require candidates to be native-born citizens.”

Your inclusion of the entirety of 'Page #4' leaves me with questions in interpreting the correctness of your unresponsive response.

Before I make the decision whether to resubmit the request, which could not be more clear and specific, or appeal the unresponsiveness of your agencies 'efforts' or take alternative actions, I solicit your assistance in clarifying the meanings of your claim that there is NO information available relating to the publication of 'Page #4' of 'The Citizen's Almanac';

1] Was page #4 included in the submission to the GPO, Government Printing Office, under the color of authority of the Department of Homeland Security / USCIS?

2] Did the 'National Endowment for the Humanities' include or exclude 'Page #4' from its endorsement and support of the publication 'The Citizen's Almanac'?

3] Were any legal authorities, existing statutes, Supreme Court Opinions, or the Constitution of the United States of America consulted, reviewed and/or considered in the compilation of the asserted information contained on 'page #4' of 'The Citizen's Almanac'?

Your agencies unresponsive response to the FOIA request NRC2009064630 seems to imply that 'page #4' of 'The Citizen's Almanac', M-76, Official U.S. Government edition identified to certify its authenticity by ISBN 978-0-16-078003-5, U.S. Government Printing Office Official Edition, was included in the publication without review of the information asserted and without authorization of any agency official.

If you believe my conclusion of the unresponsive response you have returned is erroneous please respond within 72 hours of receipt of this request for clarification of your correspondence dated May 13, 2010.

Lack of response to this request for clarification will be taken to mean the conclusion is correct and will be disseminated as such to the appropriate venues.

Mr. Craig,

This is in response to your e-mail message, copied below. Your original FOIA request, also set forth below, asked specifically for information concerning the "...approval, acceptance and/or authorization..." of a paragraph contained on Page 4 of The Citizen's Almanac pertaining to the right to run for elected office. Our "no record" response to you dated May 13, 2010, refers only to the paragraph you inquired about and not to the entire page of the document. Our search of the records did not locate any information/document that specifically dealt with the approval, acceptance or authorization of the paragraph referred to in your FOIA request, located on page 4 of The Citizen's Almanac. I trust this clarifies our response. As set forth in our letter to you of May 13th, if you wish to appeal this determination you may do so by following the instructions set forth in the letter.

Madam and Sirs;

Attached is a series of communications with the FOIA service regarding a specific item of a specific publication made available for distribution by the USCIS.

Please review and provide a response as to the DHS/USCIS position of concurrence with or demurral of the request for 'voluntary injunction' on the continued dissemination and/or distribution of the subject publication.

Should your decision be to demur please provide the 'citation of legal authority' by which a Department of the United States of America relies in disseminating and distributing information that is contrary to the requirements of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Should your decision be to concur with the request to cease and desist the dissemination and distribution of the subject publication I invite you to join with me in having the 'matter of factual finding' of the 'definition, meaning and intent' of the Constitutional 'idiom' of 'natural born citizen' legally decided before the bench of a court of competent jurisdiction.

I believe that erroneous, misleading and Constitutionally inaccurate information is expressed with the use of an idiom that is NOT to be found in the Constitution of the United States of America and 'may' be inconsistent with the 'actual' idiom used in the Constitution, that being "NATURAL born citizen", (emphasis intended)

I say 'may' be inconsistent in effort to be scrupulously correct in saying that it is NOT a matter of 'settled law' as to the Constitutional definition of 'natural born citizen' 'may' be, but it has NOT been determined that 'natural' and 'native' is synonymous insofar as Article 2 Section 1 Clause 5 is concerned.

I welcome any research and/or legislative acts, statutes and/or legal opinions that you may have relied on in approving the use of the idiom found in the USCIS publication, if any.

Should it be the case that you were not a participant in the editing and/or approval process of this specific concern, please advise, with any additional comments you deem appropriate.

Re: Freedom of Information Act Request 10-32

Dear Mr. Craig:

As the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) official responsible for inquiries under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), I am responding to your FOIA request received on March 12, 2009. You have requested "any research and/or legislative acts, statutes and/or legal opinions that . . . [NEH] may have relied on in approving" the information provided under "Right to run for elected office" on page four of the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services' publication The Citizen's Almanac.

After reviewing your request, I have determined that the NEH has no responsive records containing such information. Please note that former NEH Chairman Bruce Cole's public support of The Citizen's Almanac was the extent to which NEH was involved in the project. If you wish to appeal this determination, you must write to the Chairman, National Endowment for the Humanities, 1100 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20506, no later than 10 working days following your receipt of this letter. Your appeal rights are set out in the Code of Federal Regulations, at 45 C.F.R. § 1100.5. There is no fee for providing this information.

Sincerely,

Re: FOIA request

Dear Mr. Craig:

We received your inquiry regarding a specific FOIA issue.

The Office of Citizenship and Immigration Services Ombudsman (CIS Ombudsman) is unable to assist in your matter because of the reason stated below.

Your letter indicated that you were seeking specific information regarding citizenship and the right to run for public office. Possessing, maintaining and disseminating general information about citizenship and political issues does not fall within the mandate of the CIS Ombudsman. The CIS Ombudsman assists individuals and employers who experience specific problems with the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) benefits process, largely to identify problems and to formulate recommendations to improve USCIS service.

It appears that you have already contacted the USCIS facility responsible for responding to FOIA request. The enclosed letter dated May 13, 2010 outlined USCIS' response to your request and provided an avenue to appeal that decision.

Some questions may also be answered by visiting the FOIA/PA website at: www.uscis.foia@dhs.gov.

We hope you find this information helpful.

Sincerely,

CIS Ombudsman
